“I became involved with CRY after the Fell Family contacted me telling me about the tragic loss of their son Josh and what happens to 12 apparently fit and healthy young people each week, asking if I would be interested in helping raise awareness of young sudden cardiac death and CRY and the work that they do through research as well as support for bereaved families.”

“As a parent my heart goes out to all those who have had their sons and daughters taken from them. I will continue to support CRY in the work they are doing to detect, prevent and protect our young people dying needlessly from undiagnosed cardiac conditions.”

Every week
in the UK
at least 12 apparently fit and healthy
young people die
of undiagnosed
heart conditions

Offering help
and support to affected families
