England rugby football player

"It is a privilege for me to support CRY as a Patron. In my current role as a Harlequins and England rugby player, I am well aware of the importance of cardiac screening in sport and will help in whatever way I can to raise awareness and support CRY's campaign to reduce the terrible number of young sudden cardiac deaths that we hear about every year."

Every week
in the UK
at least 12 apparently fit and healthy
young people die
of undiagnosed
heart conditions

Offering help
and support to affected families
